

CLT envirolaw Code of Conduct

CLT envirolaw is a niche sustainability, business and human rights consultancy. We use our legal and commercial expertise to help business become compliant in those areas and develop best practice procedures, driven by the intention of preserving the environment and fostering a just society.

Our Ethical Principles are the values that set out how we seek to conduct our business. They are based on environmental safeguarding, social impact and organizational change.

Our ethical principles are:

RESPECT for OTHERS

We are open and honest in our communications and seek to ensure that we respect others through our work. We treat people fairly. We work with them in a supportive way towards developing ethical and environmental solutions.

TRANSPARENCY

We believe that being transparent is key for any business to be sustainable. As part of our growing understanding of the issues of environmental impacts and modern slavery we are striving to ensure that those businesses that are working with us will also be transparent about their practices, including their supply chains.

INTEGRITY

We conduct all our activities professionally and with integrity and we expect our suppliers to do the same by working collaboratively. We treat all client information confidentially.

ACTING RESPONSIBLY

We are committed to act responsibly within the communities in which we work and seek to benefit our communities though contributing our skills and where possible our finances to harness change for good.

Dated: May 2016

Colleen Theron, Director

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Theron', with a stylized flourish at the end.

engage inspire
achieve

www.clt-envirolaw.com